

Using the Museum Newsletter Archives

All museum newsletters/journals, from Volume 1, Number 1 (March 1995) to the present are available here as PDF files. Click on the newsletter below that you wish to view or print.

Note that over the years the title of the newsletter has changed. It began as News of the Radio History Society. In May 2003 it became Radio History Society/Radio-Television Museum News, then in December 2004, Radio & Television Museum News, and finally, in December 2007, the current name, Dials and Channels, the Journal of the Radio & Television Museum was adopted. In the early years, the newsletter was mostly just news about what was happening. Starting around 2000, the publication began to include serious articles about radio/TV history.

Complete newsletters have been scanned, although when election ballots or application blanks were separate inserts, they have not been included.

An index to these back issues is available. You can search by author or by subject keywords.

In the early years, proofreading was not as careful as it has been more recently. Accordingly, there are mistakes in volume numbers or footers. Issues that have been identified with errors are listed below. If you find other discrepancies, please notify Brian Belanger (bbelanger@ncrtv.org).

VOL 2 # 1 March 1996 (Footer says 1992)

VOL 4 # 2 May 1998 (Footer says June 1997)

VOL 6 # 2 June 2000 (Footer says February 2000)

VOL 6 # 4 December 2000 (Footer says February 2000)

VOL 7 # 1 April 2001 (Footer says March 2001)

VOL 8 #2 May 2002 (Footer says February 2000)

VOL 11 # 3 December 2005 (Volume incorrectly given as VOL 10 # 4)
